Cataract:

The Facts We Need to See

More than 2 billion people worldwide suffer from visual impairment. One billion of these cases are due to preventable diseases like glaucoma, trachoma and cataracts. Over 94 million people across the globe are currently battling cataracts, which account for 51% of all blindness. Cataract disease can lead to blindness if left untreated, while it can actually be cured with a short and simple surgery. However, millions of people around the world lose their sight because they cannot access healthcare services. Cataracts are more common in regions with harsh climates and poor living conditions, making life even more difficult for those in need.

What Are We Doing?

As Doctors Worldwide Türkiye, we conduct surgeries for cataract patients who lack access to treatment to see their loved ones again. With the strength we receive from you, we have conducted over 268,000 eye examinations, performed more than 37,000 cataract surgeries and provided over 69,000 pairs of eyeglasses in 27 countries since 2006. Through our annual volunteer medical team projects, we continue our efforts in eye health and strengthen local healthcare capacities in underserved regions through supports like the establishment of surgical eye units and the training of healthcare personnel.

What Can You Do?

Millions of cataract patients around the world who cannot access treatment are waiting for your support. With your donations, you can cover the cost of cataract surgery and help those at risk of losing sight to see their loved ones once again. Donate now and help cataract patients all around the world!
